A detailed architectural floor plan of a roof terrace. The plan is rectangular and filled with a fine grid of lines, likely representing a paving or structural grid. The grid is approximately 30 units wide and 20 units high. In the center of the plan, the text "Roof Terrace" is written in a bold, sans-serif font. On the right side, there is a vertical strip of the grid, possibly representing a wall or a narrow passage. At the bottom right corner, the text "Dn" is written, indicating a downward direction or a specific feature. The entire plan is enclosed within a double-line border.
